OPINION

I think that fast food isn't healthy because it has a lot of fats and they provoke a lot of illnesses in the future. But it doesn't mean you can't eat this food, for example, if you eat this food once a month it isn't bad.

Who has to blame for it?

I think that it is from the customers because if you don't want to eat it, don't eat it! But although we know the consequences we continue eating it so we are to blame for it.
